GC Council All Major Taxing Agencies Have Increased Budgets

New budgets for the 1966-67 fiscal year of Quad-City area taxing districts, compared to last year's budgets, with amounts of the increases:

Tax District	1966	1965	Increase
Granite City Schools...	$9,111,687	$8,099,785	$1,011,902
City of Granite City...	2,245,413	1,802,373	443,040
Madison City Schools...	2,243,885	2,158,576	85,309
Levee District...	2,116,656	2,094,552	20,104
Venice Schools...	910,513	815,999	94,514
City of Venice...	477,524	385,438	92,086
City of Madison...	475,507	467,022	8,485
Granite City Parks...	352,489	217,920	134,569
Venice Parks...	72,690	71,359	1,331
Totals	$17,806,364	$16,115,124	$1,691,240

Nine major taxing agencies of the Quad-City area have increased current operating budgets by an aggregate of $1,691,240—assuming rising tax rates when 1966 taxes are collected next year, unless assessment grows correspondingly or other revenue increases.

The nine districts have approved 1966-67 budgets and appropriations totaling $17,806,364, compared to a total of $16,115,124 a year ago.

While budget figures, in themselves, do not represent the actual amount to be raised by taxation for each taxing agency, substantial increases in budget figures are a basic indication of the need for additional funds, particularly for the increased budget expenditures for their current fiscal year, the subject of the regular council session next Monday night.

Alderman Earl Thompson, chairman of the committee, said the schedule would call for an additional salary appropriation of $7,990 for the current fiscal year. A continuation of Monday's council session was set for Tuesday night to resolve the issue by the meeting failed to materialize when only seven of the council's 16 aldermen and Mayor Donald Partney attended. Nine aldermen are required for a quorum.

The subject is expected to top the agenda for the regular council session next Monday night.

Revision Sought

Demands for revision of the schedule on an "across-the-board" basis rather than individual pay boosts came primarily from "old-guard" council members spearheaded by Fifth Ward Alderman Walter Nann, who told the council that "everybody who works for us is equal in ability or they wouldn't be working for us."

For that reason, Nann said, salary raises granted by the board should be on an across-the-board basis. "I can't and won't vote for a percentage raise," Nann said.

In addition to the new salary scale, the proposed agreement designed to cover a two-year period—provides that time off by employees injured while on duty would not be deducted from sick leave time. It also provides a fully paid major medical hospitalization insurance program.

The insurance program would cover full-time elected officials, as well, including the mayor, superintendent of streets, city clerk and treasurer.

The agreement also would specify all holidays worked as paid holidays and would revise base salaries in two instances. These involve the present base pay of the police department secretary of $325 per month, changed to $345 per month, and the $300 monthly base pay of the city hall mailman, changed to $325 a month. Both changes would become effective Sept. 1, but all other parts of the agreement, including pay boosts, would be retroactive to May 1, beginning of the city's fiscal year.

Percentage Pay Boosts

Salary increases, according to the agreement proposed Monday night, would amount to 3% for employees with one to five years of service; 4% for five to ten years; 6% for 10 to 15 years; and 7% for 15 or more years of service.

The attack on the proposed agreement was made by Madison School Superintendent, said this year's tax levy probably will increase in anticipated expenditures during the current 1966-67 year.

While tax levy figures for the Venice district have not yet been announced, School Superintendent anticipates an overall increase of 10 to 12 cents in the total tax rate of the district.

In the Madison school district, the 1966-67 appropriation has been set at $2,245,413, an increase of $85,309 over the 1965-66 budget of $2,158,576.

Madison School Levy Wessford Brown, Madison school superintendent, said this year's tax levy probably will increase in anticipated expenditures during the current 1966-67 year.

Brown pointed out that such rate increases are not "rough" estimates but are only a "rough guess" because of factors that can change the tax picture.

He said he submitted his name to committee to provide a choice, adding that voters in the June primary clearly showed dissatisfaction with the machine's method of selecting candidates.

"Again Nov. 8 the people have a free choice. Being a loyal Democrat, I do not wish to hamper the chances of Democrats running on the national stage, as I did in the county jail at Edwardsville."

Shock Kills GC Painter At Power Substation

James Lee Jr., 38, Touches 34,500-Volt Wire at Collinsville

James R. Lee Jr., 38, of 2001a Lee avenue, whose trade as a specialized journeyman painter had taken him into many hazardous situations, was electrocuted when he touched a 34,500 volt live wire Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Lee had been painting a steel wall at an Illinois Power Co. substation in Collinsville. He was pronounced dead at the scene by a Madison county deputy coroner, Herbert A. Kasky.

An inquest is pending.

The victim and his wife, Hazel D. Lee, had moved to Granite City only last week from Madison. He was employed by Utilities Service, Inc., a St. Louis painting contractor, a firm he had worked for on different occasions in past years.

Several of his previous jobs had involved painting bridges, but for the last several years he was a member of the Electrical Workers Union, Local 51 of St. Louis.

Second Painter Hurt

Another painter, John C. Wilson, 31, Gray Ridge, Mo., who was working with Mr. Lee, was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, for treatment of an ankle injury, sustained when he jumped from the framework.

According to an Illinois Power spokesman, the two were painting the wall in a portion of the substation which had been de-energized.

For reasons as yet undetermined, Mr. Lee apparently got on the de-energized section and made contact with "hot" copper wire carrying 34,500 volts of electricity, which caused an arc.

Power Off 10 Minutes

The spokesman said Mr. Lee then fell a distance of ten or 12 feet, landing across an oil circuit-breaker. Electrical current was cut off from 3:31 p.m. until 3:41 p.m. in the Collinsville area and the vicinity of Caseyville.

Lynn Scherer, 18, Glen Carbon, who also was working with Lee and Wilson, was uninjured.

He related that he was standing on the ground under Lee and Wilson.

Held to Grand Jury In Fatal Beating

George Everett Biggs, 62, charged with murder in the fatal beating of Lloyd Cook, 62, Granite City, was bound over to the grand jury Wednesday after a preliminary hearing before Judge Merline Schmitt. Biggs lives at 2702 Denver avenue.

Biggs was arrested with Floyd Cochran, 38, of 2026 Denver avenue. Both men were charged with the beating of Cook, who died in St. Elizabeth's Hospital Aug. 7. Charges against Cochran were dropped, however, in a hearing last week.

Harris said evidence introduced at the hearing indicated "cause to believe that an offense had been committed by the defendant."

Biggs is held in the county jail at Edwardsville.

GC Woman to Join 6 Multiple-Injury Auto Crashes in Quad-Cities

Area Injuries Total 20 So Far This Week; 18 Collisions Reported

An unusually large total of 20 midweek traffic injuries has been recorded in the Quad-Cities. Collisions for the week stand at 18, including six multiple-injury crashes.

Five persons were injured in a three-vehicle accident at 1:30 p.m. Monday at Madison and Farris, 89, of 6192 N. Main, was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

The accident occurred when a Lybarger Co. concrete mixer driven by William G. Smith, 30, 1246 Lakeview drive, slid on wet pavement and struck the rear of the Sherry car, which was stopped for a traffic signal, and then struck the Farris auto as it was making a left turn.

Two motorists received minor injuries at 4:35 p.m. Monday when their cars collided at Broadway and the railroad tracks in Venice.

Police reported Leo Kuzinski, 35, St. Louis, received head injuries and David N. Napier, 19, of 2065 Skeen street, Madison, complained of pains as a result of the crash. Napier was examined and released at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

The mishap occurred as Kuzinski was making a left turn onto Broadway when Napier was headed east on Broadway. Kuzinski's car was damaged in the left rear end of Napier's car in the front end.

Stamps Cruel to Animals as Boy, Family Testifies

(Special from Springfield)

John W. Stamps, 26, Granite City, on trial with three other men for the deaths of two animals when they tortured and murdered three other animals, when they tortured and murdered three other animals, when they tortured and murdered three other animals.

Two brothers of Stamps testified in circuit court Wednesday. One brother, Philip, 28, told the court that Stamps would hang cats to a wall and throw ice picks at them.

"He enjoyed it and acted like it was fun," he said.

Philip also testified that when he was about 12, John caught an opossum, put lighter fluid on it and set the animal afire.

Another brother, Mark, told the jury that John would tie tails of kittens together and hang them over the clothesline.

John's mother, testified that a grade school teacher once put a dress on a prison "teen squad" punishment for pushing girls.

"I tore the dress off him and threw the ribbon on the floor and told the teacher he was no girl," Mrs. Stamps said.

Claims Denied Treatment

Stamps attorney, Richard Shaikewitz of Alton, contends that Stamps denied adequate psychiatric treatment at Menard and that he went berserk in the prison riot last Nov. 23.

Stamps is on trial with William Bassett, Altona Jones and Prentiss Griffin on charges of murdering the three prison guards. Seven other guards were wounded in the riot.

In testimony Tuesday, Van Phillips, 32, said he was a member of a prison "teen squad" and pictured the Illinois prison system as "making men more bitter when they come than when they enter."

County Vote On Mental Health Tax Scheduled

Venice Families In Highway Path Confer With EOC

Referendum on Nov. 8 Could Provide $846,000 For Clinics in County

A new tax levy for mental health purposes in Madison county, which could provide more than $800,000 per year in tax revenue, will be submitted to the voters in a referendum at the Nov. 8 general election.

The Madison county board of supervisors voted 36 to 5 to place the proposal on the ballot during a meeting Wednesday morning in Edwardsville.

It calls for a tax not to exceed one-tenth of one cent, or one mill, which, if based on the entire equalized assessed valuation of the county would be a tax rate of 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Speaking in support of the proposal, Thomas Fitzgerald of Alton, executive director of the Madison County Mental Health Clinic, said:

"The mental health organization includes clinics in Alton and Granite City and a workshop for the mentally retarded in Alton. Its operations now are financed through a combination of state and federal funds and from the state health department and has a budget of about $75,000."

Fitzgerald told the county board that only 30% of the maximum rate would be sought, and that the rate would be set by a community mental health board of seven members to be appointed by the chairman of the board of supervisors.

The resolution calling for the referendum also provided for appointment of the board.

$846 Million Valuation

The county has an assessed valuation of about $846 million, according to John Kravak, county auditor, and 30% of a ten-cent rate would produce $252,000. Kravak, who noted that the 10-cent rate is more than the present general rate of the county government, questioned the wisdom of the state statute which permits a mental health tax by municipalities.

"Tax rates generally are based on $100 assessed valuation, but this is not stipulated in the statute. It doesn't say a tenth percent of what," Kravak showed. "If it is a mill based on $100 assessed valuation, the tax would provide a maximum of only $846."

When advised of this after the board meeting, Fitzgerald said he would inquire today on methods used in Macon county (Ga.), according to which a mental health tax referendum to provide about $75,000 per year.

Kravak pointed out that the board of supervisors from Alton, comprised mostly of women, was on hand to support the measure.

Labor Council Opposed

Also in attendance was Edwin Miller, Alton, president of the Tri-City Central Trades and Labor Council, and several associates who urged the board to oppose the tax.

Reiske said that the county board "passed the buck" to the voters of the county.

He said that mental health in the county does not need that amount of money, and pointed out that the Quad-Cities Mental Health board of directors has decided not to support the proposal.

The Trades and Labor Council voted last night to oppose the issue and to endorse the stand taken by the mental health board here. He said the local clinic has no problems in operating around the clock from the United Fund and the state.

Nicholas R. Brink, president of the board, said the group wishes to learn more about the program and how it is working out in Macon county.

Combining of 2 Power Companies Being Considered

Allen Van Wyck, president of the Quad-Cities Light & Power Co., said that the company had been approached by the Central Illinois Light Co. to combine with it to form a new utility company.

Walker told the Press-Record that the county anti-poverty agency had been approached by the Central Illinois Light Co. to combine with it to form a new utility company.

"Naturally, the people living in that area are deeply worried," Walker said. He added that the EOC office intends to do all it can to assist them.

New Bridge Still Expected to be Open by Sept. 1

The new Chain of Rocks bridge is still expected to be open on Sept. 1, according to the Missouri Highway department, which has jurisdiction over construction.

The department said final construction details are being cleared, and actual construction of the bridge proper is finished. An aluminum railing on the north side is 50% finished and is completely installed along the lane separation strip and on the downstream side.

A few concrete forms on the piers underneath remain to be removed, and huge steel girders supporting the span remain to be painted.

Delays in construction have cost the contractor $50,000 in penalties. There have been complaints of threats against the contractor and against a superintendent who left the job and the area. The contractor is the Ruckman & Hansen Construction Co.

Miss Dandridge Joins National Teacher Corps

Miss Peressia Dandridge, 325 Slough road, Venice, has been accepted into the National Teacher Corps, a program to teach children whose educational growth has been stunted by poverty. U. S. Commissioner of Education Harold Howe II made the announcement today.

As a teacher with experience with disadvantaged children, Miss Dandridge is enrolled in a pre-service program conducted by one of 44 colleges and universities across the country, currently training 1800 corpsmen. This fall, she will supervise a team of college graduates in a school, of a low-income area.

Miss Dandridge is a graduate and received a master's degree from SIU. For the past five years, she has been teaching for the St. Louis board of education. The Corpsmen are studying the problems of the culturally deprived child and are receiving special instruction in methods and materials suited to teaching such children.

Metropolitan schools and isolated schools of the rural poor now bear the brunt of the nation's teacher shortage. Purpose of the National Teacher Corps is to encourage college graduates to prepare for careers of teaching disadvantaged children. The National Teacher Corps program was established by Congress as part of the Higher Education Act of 1965.

State Ordered To Pay Costs In Stamps Trial

Ruling that defense attorneys in the murder trial of John Stamps of Granite City and three other Menard prison convicts have incurred expenses far beyond those normally involved, the Illinois Supreme Court ordered the state Tuesday to pay fees and expenses of the attorneys out of a $300,000 contingency fund.

Circuit Judge Creel Douglas last month authorized payment of $24,000 worth of claims filed by the defense attorneys, but Sangamon county was without funds to pay them.

The attorneys then sought to withdraw from the case, which began May 3 and now is in its 16th week.

Immediate Payment
The high court ordered that immediate payment be made of claims already approved by the $300,000 contingency fund of the Department of Public Safety, and that any additional claims approved by the court also be paid.

The court ruled that the lawyers "are suffering an extreme, if not ruinous, loss of practice and income and must expend large out-of-pocket sums in the course of the trial."

The attorneys are Earl S. Hendricks Jr. of Murphysboro, William A. Schuwerk of Chester, David Conn sr. of Sparta and Richard Shaikewitz of Alton.

Appointed by Court
They were appointed by the court to defend Stamps, William E. Bassett, Alton Jones and Prentiss Griffin, Menard prison inmates charged with slaying three guards in a riot at the prison last Nov. 23. Seven other guards were wounded.

By law, attorneys for pauper clients are limited to $250 in fees and a like amount for witness fees, but the Supreme Court held this was an unreasonable limitation in the present case.

Under normal procedure, costs of the trial, which are expected to be the highest in recent court history, would be paid by Sangamon county. Sangamon would be reimbursed by Randolph county where the alleged crime originated. Randolph county then would be reimbursed by the state, since the defendants are inmates of a state institution.

New Testimony
In testimony Tuesday, Marshall Sauder, a Stateville inmate who formerly was at Menard, said he once was beaten by a Menard prison "goon squad" for refusal to pick up a plate. Sauder, who is serving a burglary sentence, said he is afraid of reprisals when he goes back to Stateville.

"I might get killed," Sauder said. "I have suicidal tendencies. I might kill myself."

On cross-examination, Sauder admitted he once stabbed a Menard prisoner with a homemade knife. He said the other prisoner also was armed.

CAPT. PHILLIP DALEY

Dr. Phillip G. Daley Receives Bronze Star

Dr. Phillip G. Daley, a captain in the Army Medical Corps, has received the Bronze Star medal for his service in Vietnam. It was announced today.

The Bronze Star citation describes his role in ground operations during warfare in Vietnam from Sept. 19, 1965, to June 15.

According to the citation, he was "quick to grasp the implications of new problems with which he was faced as a result of the ever-changing situations inherent in a counterinsurgency operation. As a clearing platoon leader of the medical company, Capt. Daley was stationed with the 1st Air Cavalry Division at An Khe. Besides the Bronze Star, he was given the Vietnamese Service Medal, Combat Medical Badge and National Defense Service Ribbon.

Now residing in Syracuse, N.Y., with his wife, Jackie, and five-year-old son, Steven, Dr. Daley has been notified of acceptance in a three-year orthopedic residency at the Upstate New York Medical Center in Syracuse.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Daley, live in Madison, and his parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Indermark, reside at Kaseberg Park.

Opens in State Tournament at Alton Tonight

Mathews Takes Transplanted Alton Regional With 6-4 Win

Mathews Chevrolet took the top place trophy in the "Alton Regional" held at Wood River, defeating the Al-Wood Merchants 6-4 Monday night.

The victory means the Class A Granite City representatives will be playing the Springfield Boat & Ski Club team at 7:15 tonight as the state tournament opens in Alton's Northside Park. Boat & Ski was runnerup in the Springfield Regional.

Mathews overpowered four Al-Wood hurlers, including Carroll Glisson, who pitches in the Park league for Granite City Steel Credit Union.

Fast Basework Pays Off

Actually, Mathews was outlasted 10-9. And Al-Wood started right off on Ray Hoffman, with Dick Wells homering in the first. But Mathews came back with two runs when three successive batters bunted safely and manager Leon Chappell singled.

Rich Lee doubled in Ron Dillard, who had singled in the second, as Mathews added another run. An error after Jake Hinerser's triple with Jack Scarborough and Chuck Mizarski aboard resulted in three more Mathews' runs in the fifth.

A walk, error and back-to-back singles added one run for Al-Wood in the sixth. Then Al-Wood threatened dangerously in the seventh.

Two singles and Wells' triple netted a pair of runs. With Wells on third and no outs, Hoffman made two hitters ground out and walked another batter. The third out came on a grounder in the infield.

Two Teams from State

Additional importance has been given the Alton affair. It was learned this week that Illinois can send four teams into the state tournament. With Wells on third and no outs, Hoffman made two hitters ground out and walked another batter. The third out came on a grounder in the infield.

In addition to the metropolitan Chicago winner, the host Decatur Perfect Window team and the Alton State Tournament winner, runnerup from Alton will go.

The Decatur affair will thus be a 10-team tournament between the winner and runnerup from the Alton State tournament, the Chicago winner, the Decatur host team, winners from Indianapolis, Louisville and Milwaukee and state winners from Indiana, Kentucky and Wisconsin.

Two Games Tonight

First, however, is the Alton State Tournament.

In tonight's action, another game follows the Mathews-Boat & Ski game. This will be an 8-45 affair between the Al-Wood Merchants and Decatur Pittsburgh Glass.

Mathews Wins Over 40 in for Tomorrow's Net Event at Wilson

Granite City Steel Credit Union went right down to the wire in losing the Class A championship game Tuesday night to Mathews Chevrolet 3-2 in Wilson Park softball playoffs.

Short a regular first and third basemen and two regular outfielders, the losers held Mathews even in the hits department at 7:15. They led until the last of the eighth.

Hurter Carroll Glisson and Don Crabtree doubled in the third for Credit Union's first run. Fred Cavin's triple, after Paul Hollis had singled, tied to the other run in the fifth.

A sixth-inning error hurt Credit Union. After a one-run fourth, when Pat Harris singled in Pete Robinson, who had doubled, Mathews went ahead in the next frame. Jake Hinterser reached base on an error, stole second and scored the tying run on Rich Lee's single. The winning run crossed when Ron Dillard drove in Lee.

Belleville net star Frank Connors, due back from playing in South Hampton, England, may be in for Granite City park district invitation tennis meet tomorrow. Connors' colleges at Trinity University in Texas, top producer of net stars.

Entries have come in from Decatur, Collinsville, East St. Louis, Belleville, Olney, Flora and East Alton. Over 40 players are expected in the meet, which will go from Friday through Sunday.

At least 32 entries in men's singles are signed up.

The park's separate tennis tournament begins on Monday, with Bill Logan as manager for both events.

Action for both tournaments gets underway at 9 a.m. and will involve courts at Wilson Park and at Granite City high school.

Kirchner Set for Class B Tourney Game Fri. Night

Kirchner Hardware, four-time representative in Illinois Class B State Softball competition, will face the Lincoln Laundry at 8:45 p.m. Friday at Urbana.

Kirchner had to take the Granite City regional the hard way this year. After initially beating Granite City Steel Credit Union, the squad was edged by the Merchants 4-3. Down in the losers' bracket they outdueled Credit Union in a re-match and then nipped the Merchants twice in one evening.

Order of Arrow Conclave

Area Inter-City Teams in Snap-Back Efforts Sunday

After the debacle last Sunday which saw all three local Inter-City Baseball League teams beat en, things should settle down a little more this weekend. At least, this is the tone of each manager's comments this week.

One thing is sure—both divisions have tightened up considerably.

For another thing, most of the frantic softball activity has moved away from local tournaments and players on all three teams should be settling back to strictly baseball this Sunday.

Two critical games are in store. Don Crabtree's Mercer team, on the two games up on Pocatitos (but two ahead in the all-time important loss column), hosts East St. Louis Harper at Wilson Park in a 2:30 p.m. game.

At Mitchell, Wendell Corey's team will engage Collinsville, just topped from the Red Division last Sunday. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

Ed Opich's Hearts travel back to East St. Louis again, this time Mitchell A.C. 4-13 235 10 1/2.

Plans announced for an all-star game tomorrow night between Inter-City League and Clinton County loop players have fallen through.

The game was originally slated for Carle Park, site of the Aug. 24 Carling Tournament game between Mercer and Germantown, Sunday. (Germantown league continues.)

Pitching Gens In Two Loftus Loop Ballgames

Burger Chef's Dale Williams allowed one hit and struck out 15 batters and still lost a Bantam boys' baseball championship game Tuesday night at Wilson Park. The Orphans' Gary Schwendeman gave up four hits as his team won the Joe Loftus Red Division contest 4-2.

Walks led to Williams' downfall. The Orphans scored two in the first after a pair of walks. A walk and Steve Reinegal's single in the second resulted in another run and the Orphans scored again in the fourth after a walk.

Burger Chef's runs came in the fourth when Larry Petri and John Avedisian singled. Petri tripled in the sixth to set up the second run.

In the Blue Division championship game, Nicky Harper hurled a two-hitter for the victorious Barker Comets as they downed Red Barn 6-1. A base on balls and an error contributed to the losers' single tally. Kevin Cooper had Red Barn's only hits.

Edward Myers paced the winners with a single in the first, when two runs scored, a run-producing single in the second and another single in the fifth, when Jeffery Larner and Melvin Anderson doubled. Robert Odum tripled in the fourth.

Warrior 1966 Cross-Country Practice Set

Cross-country practice at Granite City high school begins at 8 a.m. Monday. Boys can pick up their blanks for physical examinations and pay their $3.25 insurance fee tomorrow at the school office, where Mrs. Hahn will assist them.

Coch Coach Harmon has issued a special invitation to sophomore boys who are interested in cross-country.

Practice plans so far indicate sessions will be held once a day Monday through Friday and probably on Saturday. Conference action will begin the second week of September.

Tickets for Park Grid Trip Nearly Sold Out

Only 42 tickets for Wilson Park's Sept. 24 two-bus excursion to the Missouri-Illinois University football game remain to be sold. Ticket includes the $5 gate price at Champaign and the $4.75 transportation.

Buses will leave the park office at 8:30 a.m. and arrive back around 9:30 p.m. An evening meal at The Gardens in Litchfield will be arranged but will not be part of the excursion price.

Open League A playoffs begin in Wilson Park tonight. Club Delmar will play Polish Hall at 6 o'clock. Sammy's will play Falsstaff at 7. Local 50 will play Rozycki at 8 and Mexican Honorary will meet Liberty Home at 9.

In action last night, Mexican Honorary and Club Delmar canceled each other out with forfeit members.

Polish Hall continued its winning ways Tuesday night as John Crnkovich's boys beat Liberty Home 7-4. Forrest Friend, with a homer and triple, and Dan Trevis, with one round-tripper, were Polish Hall's big hitters.

A big five-run fifth, during which both Everett Cottrell and Friend tripled, proved too much for the losers. John Measki sparked Liberty Home's eight-hit attack with a homer. Frank Hilde and Ray Jones each had doubles for the losers.

Credit Union Senior Khoury In Tourney Win

Granite City Steel Credit Union defeated previously unbeaten Wagner Electric 7-2 in the first round of the Senior Khoury League Class A playoffs Tuesday night at the Fairgrounds in St. Louis.

Barry Sykes, the winning pitcher, allowed seven hits while striking out six. Jim Campbell relieved Sykes to retire the final batter of the game on strikes. Wagner had two runners in scoring position at the time the game was called after eight innings due to an 11 p.m. curfew.

Credit Union had built up a 7-0 lead before allowing Wagner to score all its runs in the seventh. Rick Reutbuch and Charlie Stevens' double, Nick Petrillo and Rick Whitsett also had hits in the game.

Granite City is now awaiting word on further playoff action.

Ezzard Charles, Tony Zale Here For Film Event

Erno Orgovani, 2089 Madison avenue, who fought middleweight champion Tony Zale twice during the local boxer's career, returned this week from a reunion of fighters held in Chicago. Plans were set for a showing of fight films at Club Jug Sept. 18-20, at which time former champion Ezzard Charles and Tony Zale will be here.

A number of prominent boxers were at the Chicago confab. Among them were Rocky Graziano, Harry Dubinsky, Johnny Bratton, Nate Bolton and Maxie Mark, who defeated Joe Louis in the Brown Bomber's early days.

To be seen at the local film show are fights featuring virtually all the greats of the ring—Dempsey, Tunney, Marciano, Schmeling, Louis, Walcott and many others, according to Orgovani and his son, Erno F. Jr. The shows, running from 8 p.m. to midnight, will be on big-screen and with sound. Zale and Charles will be at the program as guest speakers.

Warriors Set For Practice Drills to Open

The 1966 edition of the Granite City Warrior football team will begin practice next Wednesday at 8 a.m. Varsity players will be picking up their equipment Monday, and sophomores will check out their tops at 9 a.m. Tuesday. Players should have their physical examination cards completed and should have their $3.25 insurance fee paid by Monday.

"We expect from 110 to 120 boys out for football this fall," Coach Morrison said in relating his plans to begin practice. "Our workouts will be twice a day, at least through the last of August. We'll be concentrating mostly on offense," he commented, "and all our practice sessions will include conditioning drills."

'Mind' Topic at First Church

"Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite." This well-known verse from Psalm 147 is the Golden Text for this week's Bible lesson-sermon on "Mind" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, including First Church of Christ, Scientist, 2500 Delmar avenue.

Included among the explanatory readings from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will be these lines:

"Nothing is new to spirit. Nothing can be novel to eternal mind, the author of all things, who from all eternity knoweth His own ideas. Deity was satisfied with His work. How could He be otherwise, since the spiritual creation was the outgrowth, the emanation, of His infinite self-containment and immortal wisdom?"

Annual Kiwanis-Boat Club Races at Riverfront Sunday

The whine of high-speed racing boats, together with the roar of multi-engined pleasure craft, will be heard in full force Sunday afternoon on the Mississippi riverfront, near the entrance to the Hartford Canal, as more than 100 speedboat drivers vie for prestige, trophies and cash prizes exceeding $800.

Spectators from a wide area are expected to gather at the river bank location at 1 p.m. for the start of the fifth annual speedboat races, co-sponsored by the Granite City Kiwanis club and the Bow Line Boat club.

Quad-Cityans may gain access to the race site by taking Highway Three to the Hartford Canal bridges and turning toward the river along the north road, bordering the canal. Tickets, at $1 per person, may be obtained in advance from members of either club, or at the race site Sunday.

Big Crowd Last Year
Nearly 2000 viewers lined the river bank last year for the late summer classic. With this in mind, parking space for a large number of vehicles is being readied by the race sponsors, who report the access to the river is "in good shape."

Refreshments, food and picnic facilities also will be available to spectators.

Arrangements for the meet are being completed today by committees representing both groups, under the direction of co-chairmen Bill Seebold sr. and Wilbur Waggoner of the Kiwanis and Robert Yount of the Bow Line club.

Officials for the race will be provided by the St. Louis Outboard Drivers Association, who will handle all phases of competition, the co-chairmen said. Should qualifying heats be required prior to the regular races, the preliminaries will get under way about noon.

National Champs Here
Several national speedboat champions are expected to participate in the races, which will feature six events for hydroplane racers and six for runabout classes. Many of the boats entered will approach the 100-mph. range.

Among those already registered are Jim Schuck of Quincy, a world champion for several years in three racing classes, and John Woods of St. Louis, also a national titleholder.

Of special interest to local racing enthusiasts will be three events entered by Bill Seebold jr. of Granite City, who has captured six national championships in the past two weeks. The local driver took top honors and weekend in powerboat racing at Midland, Mich., and at DePue, Ill., the previous week.

Marathon Event
Incorporated into this year's racing spectacular will be a new event, featuring a 60-mile marathon race for pleasure craft. About 15 boats are expected to compete in the distance contest.

Truck Turns, Crane Doesn't, Pole Breaks

"I've been moving cranes for 20 years and this is the first time I ever rammed one into anything," John H. Swallow said. The 51-year-old driver for Southampton Hauling Co. of St. Louis was explaining a predicament that marled traffic for a time at 20th street and Madison avenue at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Swallow, of Imperial, Mo., had attempted to negotiate a left turn off Madison onto 20th while watching a car approaching the intersection at that moment.

The tractor, owned by the Southampton firm, made the turn. The crane arm, it jammed in between an electric pole and an oil company sign, snapping the pole like a matchstick.

For a time there was fear that the pole would break completely under the force of the crane, which was being transported from a St. Louis firm to a steel company in Alton. But Illinois Power Co. workers arrived and steadied the pole so the crane could be backed out safely.

MORE ABOUT

GC Council
On Paint Damage

agreement Monday night centered around the method of increasing salaries and did not touch on the fringe benefit issues.

Alderman Charles Moerlein opposed the agreement on grounds that "it is possible under this arrangement for employees who have worked for the city one or two years to get a better raise than those who have been with 25 years or more."

"A flat increase is more logical," Moerlein argued. "We are being dictated to instead of dictating. I suggest across-the-board increases."

Nomm told the council that under the percentage plan it would be "giving" a seniority raise. If the union employees sign an agreement like this, they're giving up their bargaining rights."

Thompson replied that every detail of the salary schedule had been worked out in meetings with representatives of the employees and that all unions involved "have given this program their approval. It is what they want."

Basarich said he had been told by several members of the department that they had no say in determining the schedule.

Alderman Sam Whitmer, who with Thompson and Alderman Richard Fry serves on the Personnel Committee, replied:

"This agreement has been taken back to the unions and they like it." As chairman of the Personnel Committee, Whitmer said, "I have not heard one single complaint from anyone on the department concerning this agreement."

At one point during the discussion, Alderman G. H. Sternberg made a motion for acceptance of the agreement. It was given a second by Fry.

Further debate held up action on the motion, however, with two Aldermen, Edmund Bartosik and Ford Johnson taking a more neutral approach to the issue.

Bartosik said there are parts of the agreement which he believed are good, "but I can't vote in favor of the agreement as it is set up here. Thereafter, if I vote against it, it may be killed and there are parts of it that shouldn't be killed."

Johnson suggested that the council give the matter "more time" for possible revision to meet council objections.

Thompson, however, defended the agreement as the best possible approach to the salary problem. "We have been working a long time on this and I believe I am closer to the situation than anyone. This agreement has the approval of the employees and the unions."

Sternberg, remarking that perhaps he had been premature in moving for acceptance of the agreement, withdrew his motion.

As the debate continued past the 11 p.m. curfew fixed by resolution, Alderman Fry advanced a new motion for approval of the agreement.

Nomm challenged the attempt by pointing out that it was past 11 p.m. and that a motion could not properly be made. The council then adjourned with the understanding to try to meet again Tuesday night.

Daughter Born to Former Resident

News has just been received of the birth of a nine and one-half pound daughter this morning to Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Connell of Champlain. The baby has been named Kelly Biles.

Mrs. Connell is the former Kathryn Thompson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Thompson, of Breckenridge lane.

Clean Air Board
To Meet Tonight
On Paint Damage

A special meeting of the Granite City Air Pollution Commission is scheduled at 7:30 tonight as the first phase in pinpointing responsibility for paint discoloration in certain areas of the city.

Thomas Boker, chairman of the city's clean air commission, announced plans for the meeting to be held in the mayor's conference room at the city hall. He said the commission will continue to conduct meetings "until we determine fully the cause and the responsibility for the paint discoloration problem."

Boker pointed out that an investigation into the origin of the grunge subside, which is causing the discoloration, has been completed by St. Louis Testing Laboratories. Additional tests were obtained by the technicians just recently.

"We intend to push this thing through to a finish," Boker said, noting that the city council Monday night voted to hire Prof. Edwin C. Hoelscher of Washington University as part-time secretary.

"He isn't back from his vacation yet, but we are going ahead with this matter anyway," Boker added.

Bike Trip for Two Ends in Hospital

A brief bike trip to a neighborhood confectionery store for candy resulted in two young girls being admitted Tuesday afternoon to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment of abrasions, plus X-rays and observation.

They are Lorie Melichar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Melichar, 348 Dewey avenue, and Donna Clapper, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ross Clapper, 2408 Dewey avenue.

The two were riding a bicycle together and enjoying the candy bar at the same time when they lost control and toppled into the roadway. Both are 11 and will enter the sixth grade at Logan school this month.

The Clapper girl sustained contusions and abrasions to the head and face and was released yesterday. The other child, who also suffered facial abrasions and a lacerated lip, is expected to be released this weekend.

Released from Hospital

William T. Cummings, 69, of 2819 Iowa street, injured last Friday evening when his car plunged through a metal railing on McKinley Bridge and fell 60 feet, was released from St. Elizabeth Hospital Tuesday. He suffered cuts about the head and face and multiple abrasions.

In Fair Condition

Arthur Heatherly, 22, of 2147 Woodlawn avenue is still in fair condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was taken early Monday after being thrown from the motorcycle he was riding at 10th and State streets.

3 Buses Leave Friday
For Football Contest

The Bi-State Transit System announced this morning that three buses will be leaving tomorrow evening from the Bellemore shopping center for the St. Louis Cardinal Symphony Benefit Football Game with the Baltimore Colts.

Times for departure are 7:20, 7:30 and 7:40 p.m. Immediately after the contest, riders should board the buses at a special bus parking lot south of the St. Louis stadium.

MORE ABOUT
All Major Taxing

receive much of their income from federal and state aid, municipalities need nearly all of their revenue through tax and license collections.

The tax levy for Granite City and next year's estimated tax rate have not yet been announced. New rate limit rulings make it uncertain whether the overall rate will increase.

Budget Raised

In the city of Venice, budget expenditures for the current fiscal year total $477,324, an increase of $93,068 over last year's figure of $384,256. A rate election is scheduled for Aug. 30.

Smallest budget increase in the area is that of the Venice park district, which has approved a new budget of $72,000 compared to $71,875 last year, increasing by only $125.

The city of Madison shows an increase of $18,500 in its budget of $475,507, which should hold the Madison rate increase near the present level, depending upon fluctuations of the assessment figure.

The Granite City park district increased its budget by $124,500. The new appropriation is $322,489, compared to $217,920 last year. Here again, most park levies come from the state and a rate increase can be anticipated, although tax levies have not been definitely determined.

Rate Jump Probable

A rate increase also is probable—depending upon assessed valuation—for the East Side Levee and Sanitary district, whose 1966 budget was fixed at $2,116,656, an increase of $20,004 over the 1965 budget of $2,096,652.

The office of County Clerk Eulalia Hotz has pointed out that any estimates of tax rates made at this time are, at best, guesses because valuations can fluctuate up or down. Until assessments are determined, the application of tax levies against the valuations to determine rates cannot be made.

On the basis of budget estimates, however, and in some cases determination of actual tax levies figures, general rate increases appear likely, affecting tax bills next year.

Local Modelers
Will Go Sunday
In Plane Event

Several members of the local Sky Stealers model airplane club will compete in this Sunday's Midwestern Model Airplane Championships at Bruders Park in Valley Park, Mo.

Special emphasis for the event came this week when St. Louis Mayor C. Wright proclaimed a "Model Aviation Week" and congratulated the St. Louis Yellow Jackets, sponsors of the event Sunday.

Stunt, combat, speed, jet speed, radio speed, scale, radio and Navy carrier are all included among the events. Planes take to the skies at 10 a.m.

John Blum will be competing in Navy carrier and stunt, and his son in the beginner events. Another Navy carrier competitor from the local area will be Andy Gonzales. Ron Thurman and Terry McCormick are also entered in speed and radio carrier events.

Cubs Beat Optimists, Win Babe Ruth League

Frank Durrell and Rich Schardan exchanged two-hitters last night, but the former came out on top as his team, the Cubs, topped the Twilight Optimist 2-1 for the Babe Ruth Juvenile Championship.

The only runs scored by the Cubs crossed the plate in the first inning when Donny Nech singled and scored on a sacrifice by Schardan, and in the fourth when Greg Jones singled following a walk and stolen base.

A single by Dave Spickett brought in the only tally for the Optimists. Keith Rodgers had their other safety.

"Lee was wiping paint off the insulator with a cloth when his little finger touched the hot part," he related.

"The whole place sort of lit up in a ball of flame," he said, adding that Lee then fell across circuit breakers and lay still. Lee made no outcry, he added.

Scherer said he then took a "hot stick," a long wooden pole, and opened the switches that carry electricity through the lines that Lee had touched.

Clyde Tidwell, an IPC substation electrician, said that during three power lines were turned off. "We couldn't turn these off without shutting down the entire substation," he said.

Lee's clothing caught fire after contact with the circuit breakers while road at 1:50 p.m. Wednesday.

and his pants legs, shoes and underclothing were burned away.

Two insulators were broken by the impact of Lee's body. These were replaced by electricians.

A company official said several Illinois Power workers had left the substation just a few moments before the tragedy occurred. Company employees were immediately called back to the scene to extricate the victim and effect repairs.

Prior to any work being performed on the power company's property, all workmen are briefed in which areas are de-energized, the company spokesman said. Red tags are placed in sections which are functioning and "hot."

Mr. Lee was born in Louisville, Ky.

Survivors besides his wife included his mother, Mrs. Emma Dodson of Louisville, Ky.; two sisters, Mrs. Emma LaCour of Chicago and Mrs. Opal Bone of Annandale, Va.; and two brothers, Herman C. Dodson of Rockville, Md., and James C. Dodson of Washington, D. C.

Legal Aid Service

Begins Sept. 15;

Plan Office Here

A legal aid service to provide counsel to indigent persons will be placed in operation Sept. 15, it was announced Monday night at a meeting of the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, in Edwardsville.

Financed with a $77,000 federal appropriation obtained through the Office of Economic Opportunity, the legal aid program calls for establishment of three offices to serve all areas of Madison county.

Commissioners agreed at a session earlier this year that one legal aid office will be located in the Quad-Cities and the remaining two in the Alton-Wood River area of the Edwardsville area.

3 Full-Time Lawyers

The federal grant will provide for three full-time attorneys, one of whom will function as the program director, plus three secretaries, an investigator and a research assistant.

The commissioners were told Monday that the legal services board of trustees is experiencing difficulty in finding a qualified director for the project. Initially, the position carried with it a salary of $15,000 per year, but this was later amended to an annual salary of $13,500, conforming with other cuts in the overall legal aid budget.

Single persons earning less than $50 per week would be eligible for legal aid services.

An additional $5 per week is allowed for each dependent in determining whether a family qualifies for legal aid under the anti-poverty program. It was learned, however, that certain exceptions may be made to the maximum income restrictions, providing circumstances warrant them.

They were found outside; $70 was taken from the wallet. Two cigar lighters also were taken. Entry was gained through an unlocked back door.

A barbecue grill with brown legs, valued at $11, was stolen from the yard at the home of Vera Green, 2014 East 25th street, the previous night, she reported at 11 p.m. Tuesday.

Hole Found in Safe

Mrs. Olen Hinchcliff, 2235 East 23rd street, reported at 10:40 p.m. Monday that she found a hole in the safe in her bedroom, but nothing was missing. She said she was away from home between noon and 2:30 p.m. There was no forced entry.

A trailer owned by the Marquy Plumbing Co. was broken open while it was at the new Parkway school construction site on Maryville road over the weekend. It was reported Monday. The lock was cut off. An inventory was to be taken to determine if anything was missing.

Two nightgown were stolen from an auto owned by James Moody, 4002 Kirkpatrick Homes, Aug. 15 while it was parked in the area of the Kirkpatrick housing project, he reported to police Monday.

Fruit Stolen From Yard

Mrs. Grace Risinger, 2011 Alton avenue, reported to the county sheriff's office Tuesday that during the previous few nights someone had been stealing grapes and peaches from vines and trees in her back yard. She said the thieves are scaling a six-foot fence around the yard and that she believes she knows who is doing it.

County Audit Lists Criticism, Makes Recommendations

An 85-page audit on county government agencies containing 40 recommendations on the handling of funds, record keeping and investment of excess funds was distributed to the Madison county board of supervisors meeting Wednesday morning in Edwardsville.

The audit, for the 1965 fiscal year, was prepared by R. C. Scheffer & Co., certified public accountants at Alton, and a representative of the firm is to be on hand at the next board meeting Sept. 13 to answer questions. The report notes that in 1965 substantial income was received from investment of various funds but there were substantial excess funds on hand at various times which could have been invested if county officials had the legal right to do so.

Uninvested Funds
Funds with substantial uninvested cash balances Dec. 31 were the collector's account, county revenue fund, retirement fund and protest tax interest fund.

The auditors recommended that legal opinions be obtained and that all eligible excess funds be invested. The report generally recommended that all purchases be made on a bid basis where possible, detailed itemization of all expenses be documented before vouchers are presented for payment, proper and accurate ledgers be maintained, the overall insurance program be reviewed and that the county change its fiscal year to Nov. 30 rather than Dec. 31 to conform with the fiscal spans of fee offices set by statute.

No Per Diem Action
During the meeting, the board heard a written report from State's Attorney Joseph Bartylak stating that he has asked the state attorney general for a legal opinion on dual payments of per diem for attendance at day and night committee meetings and for payment of a $5 per diem raise to holdover members of the county board.

Bartylak said the state office lost the request and he has filed another one. Harry Briggs, Nameoki township supervisor and chairman of the legislation committee, reported action will be taken at the next session of the state legislature to clarify the legal composition of county boards.

Boards Administrative?
He noted a Witt county case where a circuit court ruling on a "one-man, one-vote" dispute,

Chas. Mueller Receives Palatine School Post

Charles "Bud" Mueller, former basketball coach at Madison high school from 1959 to 1962, has been appointed assistant principal of Palatine, Ill., high school, Palatine, Ill., its enrollment is 2000.

Before taking a coaching position at Palatine last year, Mueller was with Mt. Pleasant high school in Michigan. While mentor at Madison, he led the basketball team to the Illinois state high school basketball tournament for the first time in 10 years.

Mueller graduated from Millikin University, Decatur, where he received degrees in physical education and history. He completed master's degree work at Indiana University.

called the board a legislative group and therefore illegal. Briggs argued that county boards are administrative and not legislative bodies.

A contract to tuckpoint the county civil defense building in Edwardsville was awarded to B. L. Sylvius Co. of Godfrey on a low bid of $6799. Worthen Brick Contracting Co. of Granite City bid $7500.

Fee Office Reports
Semi-annual financial reports of fee offices for the period ending May 31 showed:
County clerk—Receipts, $75,386, expenses, $55,270, excess fees, $20,116; county clerk (associate clerk, circuit court)—receipts, $14,253, expenses, $14,253 (for salaries); sheriff—receipts, $93,356, expenses, $86,056, an imbalance of $7291 to be applied to the next six months report.

Probate clerk (associate clerk, circuit court)—Receipts, $10,616, expenses, $2735 (office expenses, salaries discontinued), excess fees, $16,889; recorder of deeds—receipts, $65,100, expenses, $26,669, excess fees, $38,431; circuit clerk—receipts, $110,609, expenses, $85,893, excess fees $24,806, plus $5314 remitted from the county clerk, excess fees, $30,121.

Reports showed that on July 31, the county tuberculosis sanitarium had 32 patients, an increase of two during the month; the county nursing home had an average of 59 patients; motor fuel tax receipts for townships in June totaled $18,632; and MFT receipts for the county for July totaled $84,740.

$335,000 City Spending in GC In 1st Quarter

Granite City has spent $335,747 out of its general fund and $287,444 from all other fund accounts during the first three months of its current fiscal year, according to a report presented to the Granite City council Monday night by City Treasurer E. R. "Pat" Rich. The city treasury showed balances of $149,205 in the general fund and $1,007,965 in all other funds as of Aug. 1. The city's 1966-67 year began May 1.

Three accounts in the general fund show deficits, including $5026 in the police account, $1440 in the sanitation account and $2888 in the school crossing guards account. These will be eliminated, however, through tax distributions from current collections.

Largest expenditure from any single account of the general fund for the three-month period is $52,144 out of the police fund, leaving the $2026 deficit as of Aug. 1. The account had a balance of $6108 at the beginning of the fiscal year and had income of $65,061 in the three months.

Expenses, Balances

Other expenditures for three months, and balances as of Aug. 1, in major accounts of the general fund are: fire, disbursements of $9,451, balance $57,235; street and alley, $72,100 and $42,524 balance; contingent, $3355 and $466; tax commissions, $11,479 and $10,414.

The general fund as a whole, which includes 17 separate accounts, began the year with a $104,283 balance. Added to this were $380,570 in receipts for total available funds of $484,853. Disbursements out of all accounts during the three-month period amount to $287,444, with an additional $98,580 transferred out of the working cash fund and added to the maintenance of sewers fund. The sewer maintenance fund began the year with a $80,776 deficit. The $98,580 transfer from the working cash fund along with $11,210 receipts brought the fund balance to $6012, all of which has been spent since May 1. Three-month expenditures out of the municipal retirement fund amount to $24,475, leaving an Aug. 1 balance of $21,095.

Parking Meter Fund

Total income in the parking meter fund so far this year is $105,087, including a $92,561 balance at the beginning of the fiscal year. Expenditures from the fund for three months total $13,217.

Disbursements out of the library fund for the three months total $60,234. The fund has a balance of $63,241.

Payments thus far out of the police pension fund amount to $39,834, and out of the fire pension fund, $29,519.

Arterial street maintenance fund expenditures have totaled $15,555, leaving a balance of $87,587. The fund had a balance of $105,492 at the beginning of the year.

Civil defense fund disbursements total $2285 for the quarter, leaving a $4383 balance.

Approve July Claims

The council approved July claims totaling $27,853 during its Monday meeting. Three claims were separated from the claim list before approval was granted, however. These included two claims of the Royal Chemical Co. for $241 and $115 and a claim in the amount of $1900 filed by Red's Truck Service.

The trucking company claim was separated to check schedules when the trucks were used within certain 24-hour periods.

The chemical company claims were taken off the list as the result of an investigation headed by Alderman R. E. Robertson involving receipt and storage of the chemicals by the city. The chemicals are used to spray for mosquitoes.

Most of the claims were of routine nature. A claim of $3063 for concrete and rental of equipment were paid to A. H. Seebold Co., and claims of $3219 and $111 were paid Research, Planning & Design Associates for inspections, engineering and supervision. Approved payments also included one in the amount of $283 to Tom Skerle for curb and gutter replacements and sidewalk and driveway replacement.

Seagraves Fire Apparatus Co. was paid $3413 for fire equipment. A claim was authorized for payment of $1251 to the Shop-

No provision in the proposed legislation calls for mandatory use of crash helmets because of a lack of definite standards, but future legislation may call for this type of legislation.

Records of the Traffic Safety Division of the Illinois Department of Public Safety show the number of accidents and fatalities in Illinois involving motorcycles were three times greater in the first three months of 1966 compared to the same period the previous year.

On June 30, the number of registered motorcycles reached 59,456, compared to 35,626 registered on the same date in 1965. This is an increase of over 60 per cent in the motorcycle population.

Last year, 2685 accidents involving motorcycles were reported with 66 fatalities; figures for January through April of 1966 indicate 513 motorcycle accidents involving 18 fatalities.

Granite City Hires Pure Air Part-Time Technical Secretary

The Granite City council Monday night voted to hire Prof. Erwin C. Hoelscher of Washington University as part-time technical secretary to the city's Air Pollution Control Board.

The council confirmed the appointment without discussion and fixed Prof. Hoelscher's salary at $100 per month, with payment of $100 per day when he serves on any occasion that takes him out of the city.

Employment of a technical secretary has been under consideration for several months. The council recently amended the budget for the Air Pollution Board, raising it from $15,000 to $25,000 to permit employment of a secretary.

Prof. Hoelscher is no relation to local industrial officials.

In other business, the council, acting on a proposal by Alderman Sam Whitmer, agreed to send Police Patrolman Glen Wright to the Elmhurst, Ill., police training school early next year at a cost to the city of about $800.

Whitmer told the council that, after Jan. 1, municipalities will be eligible for state refund of 50% of funds spent to train police officers. He said the entire training course, which runs several months, costs about $1100, of which the city would be reimbursed by the state for half.

Approve Zoning Variations

Council members approved a report of the Zoning Board of Appeals authorizing three property line variances for construction of two garages and a house remodeling job.

The council action approved requests by John Bechtle, 2112 St. Clair avenue, and Bobby Sykes, 4068 Merrose avenue, for construction of detached garages.

The other authorization was granted Kenneth Fuller, 3144 Jull avenue, for a variation of five feet from the property line to permit construction of a one-room addition and a carport.

Aldermen also granted a request by the Church of God to solicit funds for church purposes. The request was made in a petition signed by Rev. Dewey Garner, pastor, and 18 members of the congregation.

Permission was granted to the United Fund to place cardboard wrap-around signs on utility poles during the UP campaign this fall, and also authorized installation of a cloth banner in downtown Granite City and erection of several "progress indicators" in downtown and outlying areas. Locations of the signs and banner will be determined when campaign plans are completed.

Settle Old Suit

Payment of $254 to settle an eight-year-old court proceeding by Bliss and Pauline Sentiff, involving a dispute over easements for a sewer line, was authorized by the council on the suggestion of Leo Konzen, assistant city attorney.

Konzen told the council by letter that the suit has involved lengthy litigation and that a settlement in this amount represents the best price the city could hope to obtain.

The Granite City Optimist club was granted the right to use a city lot for the club's annual Christmas tree sale. The lot is located between the post office and the Granite City fire station on Madison avenue. The council approved the request with the understanding that operations on the lot would be under supervision of the fire department.

Parking Meters Misused

A letter sent by Homer Huber, chairman of the Downtown Granite City Shopping Center, to the organization's member retailers concerning use of parking meters was read to the council. The letter pointed out that a survey of the use of 78 meters showed that 85% of the space was taken by business people and employees.

A parking meter, the letter said, is worth $5000 a year to the retailers' with a turnover of eight to ten cars a day.

The letter directed to the retailers said that "when you and your employees plug the meter, you eliminate the possibility of this daily turnover."

The council received a letter from Harvey Hicken calling attention to the damaged condition of sidewalks in the 1500 block of State street. It was referred to the Street and Alley committee.

Notice of Suit

City Boiler Inspector Clarence Walter reported by letter that the Board of Engineers met Aug. 4. The council also received notice of a suit to be filed by Elsie Unger against the Bi-State Transit System and the city of Granite City in the amount of $3000.

Notice was received from the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. on installation of two new fire hydrants, one at Colgate place and Bradley avenue, placed in operation Aug. 3, and the second at Yale and Princeton drives, placed in service Aug. 5. Council members, acting on a notice from Konzen, approved a fee change for the appraisal of two tracts of right-of-way for the

45 Local Sr. Citizens Leaving for State Fair

Ben Olive, president of the Granite City Senior Citizens club, has announced that a busload of 45 local residents will be on board for an annual trip to the Illinois State Fair in Springfield. The bus will leave at 7 a.m. from the recreational hall at Kirkpatrick Homes. The senior citizens will have lunch at the fair. After attending a busy day of pre-planned activities, they will depart for home at 5 p.m.

southern section of the Nameoki road improvement job. A fee of $250 for Andrew Gasparovic III was approved. The fee has been approved by the state, Konzen said.

Wabash Right-of-Way

Carl E. Miller of the Miller-Wolf Realty Co. notified the city of his appraisal of $800 for a 35-foot stretch of property fronting on Johnson road at Wabash avenue.

The strip of right-of-way, required for the city's plan to build a divided parkway along Wabash avenue from Johnson road to Pontoon road, is owned by John Sobel.

Miller also set a figure of $4500 on another 35-foot stretch of right-of-way owned by Mercer & Sons, Inc., on the west side of Wabash avenue. This strip is 600 feet deep, extending from Clark avenue to within 158 feet of Johnson road. No specific action was taken on the notices.

'Lazy Eye' Problem Can Cause Blindness

(First of three articles by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness on vision problems in children, how they can be recognized and what can be done to avoid them.)

Amblyopia or "lazy eye blindness" may affect as many as one child in every 20, unless detected and treated in time.

It is a disorder in which an eye that appears healthy actually has low or poor vision which, in many cases, cannot be helped by wearing glasses. If not treated early in life, it can lead to blindness.

A child may have eye trouble that causes him to see a double image instead of one, or images of different sizes or shapes. This is due to the fact that one eye is not functioning properly. When he fails to get the two separate pictures to come together, he tends not to use the delinquent eye; this, then, becomes a habit. Thus, through non-use of the one eye, vision is gradually lost and cannot be regained.

Child Won't Complain

A youngster may have blurred vision or use only one eye to see and still not complain because he has no way of knowing that it should be otherwise.

Illustrating this is the story of the first-grade child in a southern school who, after having her eyes examined and glasses prescribed, went to the movies with her mother. "Why-

Mommy," she exclaimed on looking at the screen through her new lenses, "they're people."

Undetected vision problems or crossed eyes can mean permanent loss of sight in the affected eye if not treated at an early age.

Much in a recent Reader's Digest article was the fact that when U.S. Army Air Force doctors studied the vision of five thousand airmen, they made the startling discovery that more than 200 of these men were virtually blind in one eye. Experts believe now that amblyopia, the condition which afflicted these airmen, threatens the sight of as many as one in twenty American youngsters.

Can Be Prevented

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness points out that amblyopia is almost 100% preventable.

It can be conquered if parents would seek and use the knowledge and services that are available to them, such as: the literature provided by the National Society; the pre-school screening programs to detect signs of amblyopia, conducted by volunteers all over the country; or by having an eye examination.

Since the critical period of development of acute vision is between the ages of one and seven, a child's eyes should be examined before he is four years old, and treated, if necessary—the earlier, the better.

May Not Be Apparent

Visual difficulties not only may result in blindness but may account for lack of progress in school and emotional troubles. Even though a child may not complain about his eyes and they may look perfectly normal, an examination is still important for some defects may not be evident. However, the National Society advises parents and teachers to be alert to signs that may be indicative of eye problems that call for an examination, such as: swollen, inflamed or watery eyes; rubbing the eyes excessively; shutting or covering one eye; tilting or thrusting the head forward; blinking more than usual; holding a book close to the eyes; squinting or frowning; and other unusual behavior patterns.

Foremost is better than hindsight when it comes to a child's sight. The National Society's slogan for amblyopia is: "Early detection for early correction."

Have your child's eyes checked—preschool and periodically thereafter.

Edson Smith, Former

GCHS Teacher, Dies

A. Edson Smith, 70, curator of the Madison County Historical Museum and a former Granite City high school teacher and coach, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at 7:10 p.m. Monday while working in the garden of his home, 320 Spring street, Edwardsville.

Funeral services were held yesterday in Edwardsville, with burial at Central.

Mr. Smith was appointed in 1963 as curator of the museum and had supervised remodeling of the 130-year-old Weir mansion to house its contents. Previously, he had served as president of the Madison County Historical Society.

As a mathematics teacher at Granite City high school from 1927 to 1932, Mr. Smith had formed the first GCHS band and also served as baseball coach and assistant football and basketball coach. While here, he married the former Miss Maurine Gilpin, then a physical education teacher at GCHS, who survives.

Mr. Smith left Granite City to accept school administrative posts at the Galesburg, Anna-Jonesboro and Robinson, Ill., high schools and became superintendent of schools of East Alton-Wood River high school in 1948. He retired from the latter position about five years ago.

In 1958, he had served under a special assignment for the Ford Foundation as a consultant to the ministry of education in Ankara, Turkey. Mr. Smith was a graduate of Shurtleiff College in Alton and the University of Chicago.

Besides his wife, he is survived by three daughters, Dr. Margaret Jo Smith of Princeton, N. J., Mrs. Sharon Geer of Champaign, Ill., and Mrs. Mary Lynn Woods of Edwardsville.

Five Graduate Degree Programs Set at EIU

Preliminary approval for five additional graduate degree programs at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, was granted Monday by the Board of Governors of State Colleges and Universities.

The new programs are subject to consideration and final approval by the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

Proposed programs and degrees: guidance and counseling program for specialist in education degree; botany major for master of science degree; political science major for master of arts degree; zoology major for master of science degree; and English major for master of arts degree.

The program in guidance and counseling would require one additional year of work beyond the master's degree level and would lead to the degree, specialist in education. Purpose of the program would be to prepare students to work as counselors in higher level positions in elementary, secondary and higher education.

Youth Group to Study Vietnamese War, Life

The Senior Youth Group of Hope Lutheran Church will concentrate on the work of the church with those serving in the armed forces, during September.

An 80-minute sound-color documentary film entitled "Vietnam Profile" will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 9. It portrays the drama of God at work in the midst of war, including aboriginal mountain tribespeople as well as the Vietnamese people themselves.

It also shows scenes of actual combat, follows missionaries and Vietnamese Christians in labors for Christ and depicts the ministry of a typical U.S. chaplain. The program, to be held in the church basement, is open to the public.

Parents Accompanying New Students at SIU

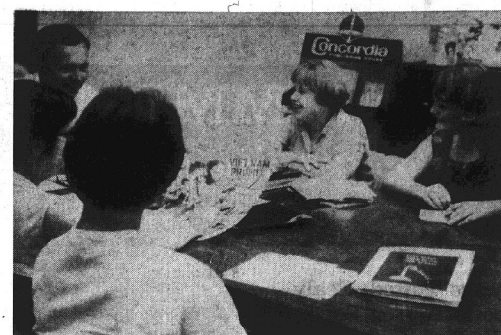

New students coming to Southern Illinois University at Carbondale these days are invited to bring their parents along—at registration time.

While enrollees are being introduced to their home-away-from-home, parents, too, usually are interested in becoming acquainted with the campus, their son or daughter's class program and the various services available for the student's well being, according to Lyle Gohn, coordinator of the student activities office.

All summer, Mondays and Fridays have been set aside for new student registration. Although parents don't enroll in classes, usually they and the new students go together to a coffee hour where slides are shown. Together, they share an orientation session. One other thing: a mother, especially, wants to see where her youngster is going to live. Over-night accommodations are arranged on request.

Leadership Course Now Underway at Carbondale

A week of leadership training began on Southern Illinois University's Carbondale campus Sunday for 60 Illinois high school students enrolled in the 5th Annual Youth World program.

Sponsored by Youth World Inc. in cooperation with Southern's division of technical and adult education and department of government, the program is designed "to focus attention on the responsibilities of government and of the individual citizen at the local, state, national and international levels and to develop the qualities of leadership," according to SIU Adult Education Supervisor Glenn E. Wills.

Participants are high school students who will be seniors this fall. They are sponsored by local civic, professional and veterans' groups and Parent-Teacher Associations.

A feature of the week will be participation in a mock United Nations Assembly designed to provide experience in problems of committee and legislative work as well as giving insight into special problems of other nations and America's position in world affairs, Wills said.

Student Here Works With California Youth Gangs

A college graduate student from Madison is actively engaged in work with teenage gangs in Richmond, Calif., this summer. He is Tom Gitchoff, who last week became a half-time research criminologist on the Pleasant Hill Youth Commission staff at Richmond.

He was hired through the preventive juvenile delinquency program at the University of California, where he is completing his work for a master's degree and will study for his doctorate.

In his work, Gitchoff is experimenting with a number of ways to prevent juvenile delinquency. It is his job to work in the field and help "reach the unreachable."

Since last November, he and another graduate student have worked with Negro teens in their own gangs, giving the group formal structure and working to turn their energies in more socially acceptable directions.

Learn New Ways

"We told them there is a chance to learn ways to enter the white man's community, to get a job, to get an education," he said. "If you don't want that, here is an opportunity for entertainment."

The Richmond program he is involved with is an outgrowth of police-youth discussion groups formed after a riot in 1964. The Contra Costa county probation department took the program over last fall when it grew too large for the Richmond police force to handle.

The school of criminology got into the act when the probation department wanted some help, Gitchoff became a paid gang worker and has been working with a gang which has grown into a 45-member Dynamic Youth Group complete with constitution and elected officers.

His work was the subject of his master's thesis — "Community Response to Racial Tension: An Exploratory Study."

Middle-Class Youngsters

In Pleasant Hill, "The kids are white, middle-class youngsters, but we'll use the same methods—letting them speak their mind and asking them what they want, for example."

Gitchoff started by getting to know the youths who hang out at drive-ins and doughnut shops, as well as working through existing organizations of youngsters. "It sounds very melodramatic, but our first contact with our gang was on a dark, rainy Saturday night," he said. "The leader of the group, who was eventually elected president, knew we were coming. We went to his house and asked to be shown around Richmond. So we saw the high school, the library and the police station by night."

Gitchoff said he and his partner knew that the teenagers, ranging from 13 to 19, would test them.

Put on the Touch

"They tried to touch us for cigarettes and money, but none of them ever laid a hand on us even though they got pretty mad sometimes," he said.

The gang began meeting every other Monday night and then more frequently. His previous gang fielded a basketball team, put on car washes, picnics and dances and repaired toys for Christmas.

Soon after the boys started working together, some girls got into the act. "There's more horseplay in meetings, but competition between the sexes is a great way to get things done," he said. He added that Richmond police do not agree that mixed groups are advisable.

None Take Drugs

While the teenagers both smoke and drink, Gitchoff found no indication that any of them were taking drugs. "We don't know if that's an effect of our work or if they're still getting their kicks from wine."

With his new job, Gitchoff is attempting to establish a relationship "with unorganized and perhaps disorganized youngsters," he said.

A native of Granite City, Gitchoff is the son of the late Dr. George E. Gitchoff and Mrs. Athena G. Gitchoff. His brother, John Gitchoff, is a local attorney. Tom Gitchoff has a bachelor's degree from Central Methodist College, Fayette, Mo., has taught at St. Louis high school, and spent four years as an Army medic in Germany and as an instructor in college criminology for the U. S. Armed Forces Institute in Germany.

State Dairy Princess Contest to be Aug. 25

Milton Guether, manager of the American Dairy Association of Illinois, has announced the 1966 Dairy Princess Contest will be held at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn on Aug. 25.

Fifteen contestants from throughout Illinois will compete for the title of Illinois Dairy Princess. The winner will compete for national honors at a later date.

Dairy Princess candidates are sponsored by local chambers of commerce, extension councils, banks, dairy associations and county farm bureaus. Guether said. Local winners become ambassadors for the dairy industry. The Madison county entry is Miss Jeanne Gieseler, Edgewood, who competed with six other contestants to become the county's Dairy Princess. The Madison County Farm Bureau sponsored the contest.

Some Openings Remain At Eastern Illinois U.

The office of admissions at Eastern Illinois University announced today that Eastern still has room for a limited number of additional qualified transfer and beginning students for the fall quarter.

University officials said that the number of cancellations of applications both for housing and admission had exceeded slightly the estimates made earlier in the summer.

Reminder Issued on Grain Support Loans

Grain stored in commercial warehouses will be eligible for price support only if the warehouse has a Uniform Grain Storage Agreement with the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This reminder to farmers in Madison County was issued today by Walter F. Bardenheiser, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Bardenheiser said farmers who plan to store wheat or other grain in a commercial warehouse should make sure that the elevator or warehouse has signed a Uniform Grain Storage Agreement with the Commodity Credit Corp.

"If there is any doubt, farmers should ask the warehousemen, or they could inquire at the ASCS County Office," Bardenheiser said.

The local USDA official said that not all warehouses have signed agreements this year.

Those who had agreements last year are covered during the interim period in much the same way that an insurance policy is kept in force before receipt of the new policy or extension. But farmers will not be able to obtain loans later unless the new agreement is signed and in effect, he explained.

Day Care Centers for Children of Low Income Families Planned by EOC

Day Care Centers, where children of low income families are cared for five days a week, enabling their mothers to work in the process of being established in the Quad-Cities. The EOC office, said part-time use of existing church or other facilities is being sought.

Under auspices of the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, one center is planned in Granite City and another in the Madison-Venice area. David Walker, director of the Tri-Cities EOC office, said part-time use of existing church or other facilities is being sought.

DONALD KRAUSE
New GC Humane Officer

—GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY—

Donald Krause Appointed City Humane Officer

Donald Krause, 2825 Dale avenue, assumed his duties as Granite City humane officer Tuesday following his appointment Tuesday night by the mayor at the Granite City council meeting.

Krause, 31, succeeds Albert Young, who received an earlier council appointment as a patrolman with the police department, and who also assumed his new duties Tuesday.

The council, in confirming the appointment proposed by Mayor Partney, set Krause's salary at $355 per month.

Krause said today that he hopes the public will continue to show the same fine cooperation given his predecessor. Although without previous experience in the humane officer's field, Krause received the appointment over several other applicants and after interviews with the Personnel committee of the city council and members of the Humane Shelter board.

A local resident for the past ten years, he was previously employed for three years at Clark Gas Station, 20th street and Madison avenue, and at a local dry-cleaning establishment prior to that time.

Krause and his wife, Mary Lee, are the parents of four sons, Robert William, 12 years, Donald Jr., 12, David Paul, seven and Alan Michael, almost two years. The family originally came here from Jeffersonville, Ind.

Young told the Press-Record that he sincerely appreciates the cooperation he has received from animal owners and the general public while serving as humane officer. He added, "I hope that the same spirit of cooperation and assistance will be continued with the new officer."

Krause may be reached through the city hall switchboard at TR 7-8111, Extension 22, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Local residents may contact him during other hours through the Granite City police department at the same number.

Short in Wiring Causes Truck Fire, $250 Loss

A short-circuit in electrical wiring caused about $250 damage to a 1959 truck owned by the R. M. Bowler Co. of Granite City on 16th street near Iowa street Monday, firemen reported.

Firemen also were called, at 12:45 p.m. Monday, to the home of Jack Cook, 2715 East 24th street, where a skillet on a stove was smoking. There was no damage.

"Even more valuable would be the full-time use of an entire building," Walker explained, "where all anti-poverty programs for the community could be carried out under one roof."

The director said that a Neighborhood Services Center, with facilities to house the legal aid service, job counseling, consumer education, homemaker service, Neighborhood Youth Corps recruitment and "on-the-job" training liaison teams, would be ideal. He added that such a facility would cut down on program administration and operating costs.

"I am hopeful of finding two such buildings in the Quad-Cities," Walker reported, "one for the Granite City area and the second for West Madison-North Venice."

"Establishment of a Neighborhood-Services Center for the latter area may be closer to reality at the present time," he added.

Sees Urgent Need
The EOC official said he believes appropriate sites can be found, with the project application forms filed for federal funds prior to October.

The Day Care Center, however, is the nucleus of the entire neighborhood services program. Walker explained. He referred to the project for pre-school children as "an urgently needed service in the Quad-Cities."

Walker reported that many of the program and assist the mother and/or father to find employment. He added that a physician County anti-poverty commission and the EOC official reported. Contractual agreement between the Madison County anti-poverty commission and the owner of a building to be used must be finalized before a project application for the necessary appropriation can be submitted to federal government, Walker said.

Full-Time Social Worker
The EOC director said that each center also is to have a social worker who will work directly with the families involved in cooking and custodial duties, the program and assist the mother and/or father to find employment. He added that a physician County anti-poverty commission and the EOC official reported. Contractual agreement between the Madison County anti-poverty commission and the owner of a building to be used must be finalized before a project application for the necessary appropriation can be submitted to federal government, Walker said.

Purposeful Undertaking
Walker explained that the purpose of a Day Care Center is not merely a baby-sitting service, but rather a comprehensive program offered to low income families, affording them the opportunity to stand on their own feet and become strong, healthy family units in the community.

Centers for youngsters, two to five years old, would be in operation from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. five days each week, under the direction of a full-time, professional director, Walker stated.

The EOC director said that a full-time teacher, who would direct the educational program with the assistance of four student teachers, who are working for their education degree in college.

Full-Time Social Worker
The EOC director said that each center also is to have a social worker who will work directly with the families involved in cooking and custodial duties, the program and assist the mother and/or father to find employment. He added that a physician County anti-poverty commission and the EOC official reported. Farm Column

By TRUMAN W. MAY
Madison County Farm Adviser

Shop for Seed Now

Now, while the memory of 70-bushel averages is fresh in your mind, is a good time to shop for Monon seed wheat.

Monon and other soft winter wheats are best adapted to the southern half of Illinois, while hard red winter wheats yield best in the central and northern areas. If your neighbors grow both types of wheat (as in the northern part of Madison county, where the soft wheat and hard wheat belts merge), stay with the predominating type, since wheat.

Monon is a short, stiff-strawed wheat with good disease resistance, and is a high yielder. Riley, a new soft winter wheat, looks promising, but seed is limited. In many respects Riley is similar to Monon and is more resistant to loose smut.

Knox 62, a replacement for Knox soft winter wheat, also deserves mention. Its straw is so stiff as Monon's and its yield is lower, but it has good disease and Hessian fly resistance. Very-million is one of the old standbys among the soft wheats. Although it does well in parts of southern Illinois, it lacks Hessian fly resistance.

If you choose hard red winter wheat, plant Gage or Ottawa. These new high-yielding, disease-resistant varieties will eventually replace Penney and Triumph. Plenty of Gage and Ottawa seed is available.

But regardless of the type of wheat you're going to plant, shop early while you have a choice.

What about planting the much-publicized Gaines wheat from Washington? This is a soft winter wheat capable of producing 150 bushels per acre in Washington. Under University of Illinois tests, however, it produces less per acre than adapted varieties. Gaines' test weight and quality are also too low to consider.

Temperature and Cows

Dairy cows usually perform best when temperatures range between 30 and 80 degrees. Production may drop drastically when temperatures go above this zone. The drop may be even greater if high humidity accompanies the high temperature.

The average dairymen probably won't find it economical to air-condition dairy barns and sheds. However, making a well-ventilated and insulated building available during the hottest part of the day may pay big dividends in increased milk production. Many dairymen are making use of their free-stall barns for this purpose.

If free-stall buildings are not available and there are no trees to provide shade, an inexpensive sunshade may be a valuable addition to the dairy operation. Sunshades are usually erected by using pole construction with either straw or hay over a wood slat or metal roof. Metal roofs should be light enough in color to reflect the sun's rays.

It's best to provide about 20 to 25 square feet of shaded area for each cow in the herd. Place the sunshade in an open area where there is good air movement.

Mosquito Spray, Sidewalk, Rail Crossings Subjects of Disputes at Council Meeting

The elusiveness of "complete" records on the purchase of large quantities of chemicals for mosquito spraying, a letter described by Mayor Donald H. Robertson as "political slander," and a demand for action against long street blockages by train spoked an otherwise quiet meeting of the Granite City council Monday night.

Robertson said that the city's Sanitary Committee renewed an often-repeated demand for signed vouchers attesting to delivery of "thousands of dollars' worth of chemicals used for mosquito spraying by the street department."

Robertson said that the committee's action has been used to produce records showing that anyone ever signed for delivery of the chemicals.

"We protested payment of a claim filed by Royal Chemical Co. in the amount of $241 for two drums of 25% chlordane, and $115 for one drum of the same product."

The alderman obtained separation of this bill from the regular claim list on which they were scheduled for action in Monday night's meeting.

"I want the records on who ordered this stuff, who received it and where it is stored," Robertson said, commenting that "so far I haven't been able to get these records."

"We spent thousands of dollars buying this chemical and I want to know what happened to it. Surely somebody must have ordered it, somebody must have signed for it: surely someone must have put it away somewhere."

Asks Mayor's Suggestions
Turning to Mayor Partney, Robertson asked: "You're the officer of the city; what do you have to suggest, Mr. Mayor?"

Mayor Partney said he was sure the records were available at the controller's office.

"I've been there several times and can't get the records I want," Robertson replied.

corn looks on the scales or "sick spots" in their fields. These small areas are common in many fields, especially in the eastern half of the county. Various treatments have been tried in efforts to improve them, but without much success. These treatments have included turning under sweet clover, rye and other green manure crops; heavy applications of potash, limestone and manure. Gypsum has been used in a few cases, with some rather promising results.

University of Illinois soil researchers are using a gypsum and tile treatment at the Newton Agronomy Field in an effort to increase productivity of sick spots.

Such high-sodium, poorly drained spots reduce yields as much as 50 to 60%. They dry out slowly in the spring and, once they are dry, moisture isn't easily replenished because of their slow permeability. Sick spots occupy about 381,000 acres south-central and western Illinois.

The researchers are working with the following treatments: gypsum applied in the surface or plow layer and tilled; gypsum applied in the surface without tilling; tilling but no gypsum; and gypsum chiseled in to a depth of two feet and tilled. Each year 160 pounds of nitrogen per acre are added to all plots in the experiment.

Corn was grown in 1964 and 1965, and yields for the different treatments varied considerably in both years. Some of the results appear promising, but more data are needed before any conclusions can be drawn concerning the effect of gypsum on sick spots.

The mayor asked Controller Robert Stevens if he had found the records the alderman wanted. Stevens replied that he had given Robertson "everything that is in our files."

"I still don't have any signed vouchers," the alderman said. "Can't you do anything about finding these records, Mr. Mayor?"

Mayor Partney asked Stevens if he would go into the files and "find everything you have on this."

Robertson commented, and then asked: "Do you want the committee (the Sanitary Committee) to be forced into issuing subpoenas? I presume we have that authority."

Furnish Detective?
"You certainly do," the mayor replied. "Maybe we can even furnish you a detective."

"Okay," the alderman flared back, "furnish me a couple."

Partney turned to Chief of Police Raymond Willard and asked, "Will you do that, Ray?"

Alderman Clyde Boyd, also of the Sanitary Committee, broke in at this point with the remark that "surely somebody has to sign for this stuff. If we don't have any records or vouchers showing what happened to it, it's pretty inefficient bookkeeping."

The mayor then assured Robertson that he will do everything he can "personally" to see that all available records are produced.

The two then declared that the trustees of St. Margaret Mary Church now ask that protection be given our children as citizens of this city as they come and go from school. We therefore expect two additional crossing guards to be supplied before and after school as well as during the noon hour. We will be forced to have our children use the busy street of Leonard as a sidewalk, and hope and pray that your action will not be the cause of a death."

Regret and Disappointment
The two trustees said in the letter that it was with "deep regret and disappointment to 1000 taxpayers of the 6th Ward that the proposed sidewalk for protection of over 400 children was vetoed by the mayor."

"It was our understanding," said. "This thing really surprises me and it is very poor taste. All of our schools are better protected today than they ever have been. One reason I vetoed the project is because the other people in this section paid for their own improvements."

"I don't intend to answer this letter, but I am going to send a copy to the bishop at Springfield. I don't think he will approve."

Railroads Assailed
Railroads were criticized for blocking crossings, running on loose tracks and permitting grade crossings to deteriorate into bumpy ruts.

The discussion started when Alderman Walter Norn told the council that trains "are blocking every crossing we have," and suggested the city discuss the matter with the Illinois Commerce Commission "to see if we can't do something about it."

Alderman Ford Johnson said he has received complaints from people in the vicinity of the West Pontoon and Nameoki road crossing that the tracks are so loose "it looks like the train is going to jump the tracks." Johnson suggested looking into the legality of passing an ordinance that would limit train speed through the city.

Alderman Steve Baarich complained that people ignore crossing gates and pass around them even while a train is approaching.

Alderman Claude Green said he has received a large number of complaints about the condition of streets at grade crossings.

Alderman Gerald Partney suggested an ordinance that would require railroads to keep grade crossings in good repair.

Madison Police Arrest 24 in Traffic Drive

A charge of possessing an altered driver's license was filed early this week against John M. McMillan, 19, of 2457 East 2nd street after the youth had been picked up for speeding in a radar traffic drive conducted by Madison police during the week-end. Twenty-three other motorists were arrested in the drive. McMillan was arrested at Fourth street and Madison avenue, Madison, on the speeding charge. At police headquarters, where he offered to post his driver's license as bond, officers said his license showed the original year of McMillan's birthdate had been cut out of the license and the figure 45 inserted, which would make his age 21.

McMillan is to appear Aug. 24 for a magistrate's hearing on both charges.

Dual charges also were filed against Kenneth Brown, 25, of Pittsburgh, Pa., arrested at Third and Jackson streets for passing a stop sign and driving with an expired driver's license. Aug. 24 was set for a hearing. Two charges also were filed against Jackie Lee Yates, 26, of 2831 East 25th street, arrested at Sixth street and Madison avenue and booked for speeding and making unnecessary noise. He is to appear for hearing Aug. 31.

Arrests on charges of speeding announced this week included: Theodore J. Widel, 38, of 2826 East 25th street, Saturday at

Leonard V. Thompson, 26, of 1919 Edwardsville road, Madison, Saturday at 1800 Third street; Ruth A. Clatts, 23, of 1330 Meridian avenue, Saturday at Edwardsville road and Greenwood; Gerald W. Wallace, 41, of 2813 Warren avenue, Saturday at

Police Complaints Show Sharp Rise; Up By 28%

The Granite City police department answered 919 complaints during July, an increase of 262, or 28%, over the number of calls received by the department in June, according to a report by Chief of Police Raymond Willaredt to the Granite City council Monday night.

Of the complaints, actual offenses totaled 131, of which 17 cases were cleared, the report said. This was 39 less offenses than occurred during July 1965, when 16 of 101 cases were cleared.

The report said the detective bureau conducted 147 investigations and interviewed 354 persons. Actual offenses included three aggravated assaults, of which all three were cleared; 29 burglary cases, with one cleared; 12 cases of larceny over $50, with two cases cleared; 69 cases of larceny under $50, with five cases cleared; and 18 stolen auto cases, none cleared.

Arrests Also Increase

A total of 383 arrests, 205 more than in July a year ago, was reported and the department filed in 87 of the accidents.

Opening Day for 6 Local Parochial Schools Varies

Opening dates and approximate enrollments for the coming year were announced today by the six Quad-City parochial schools. With pre-school planning now in its initial stages, exact figures for total enrollment will be forthcoming in a future issue of the Press-Record.

According to information released by the educational administrator at Sacred Heart school, approximately 380 students will attend classes which begin on Sept. 1. After opening at 8 a.m., future schedules will be announced.

St. Margaret Mary begins its first full day of school on Tuesday, Aug. 30 from 8 a.m. to 3:10 p.m. An enrollment of 350 has been estimated.

The largest number of pupils for the 1966-67 school year will be at St. Elizabeth's where over 500 are expected to attend. On Sept. 1 and 2 this Catholic school will have half-day classes from 9:15-10 a.m. A regular course of studies begins on Sept. 6 with classes being held from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

In Madison, St. Mary also begins a complete schedule on Sept. 6. Classes for an estimated 300 youngsters are to be held from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. About 200 students will report for classes at St. Joseph's where school officially begins on Sept. 6 at 8 a.m. Further instructions will be given then.

Mouth Breathing May Harm Child's Health

Can the habit of breathing through the mouth harm a child's physical health, a reader asks.

ANSWER: It can. A young "mouth breather" will probably suffer more upper respiratory infections, more colds and may even encounter serious lung infections.

Why? Because the air he breathes enters his lungs in the same condition it enters his mouth—dry, dirty and cold.

If he inhales correctly, the dry air would be humidified by the moisture inside the nose... dirt would be filtered out by the nasal hairs... and the air would be warmed by the blood vessels inside the nose.

QUESTION: Can the mouth breathing habit cause dental problems, too?

ANSWER: Yes. As a matter of fact, it causes numerous dental problems.

Can Dry Out Gums

Since the air is not humidified, it can dry out a child's gum tissues, causing them to become inflamed and swollen.

And, since the foreign matter (dust and dirt) in the air is not filtered, it often collects about the teeth, resulting in a unique type of tooth decay.

What's worse, since a young mouth breather continually holds his mouth open, his upper front teeth are no longer supported by his tongue and lower lip. The result? The front teeth gradually move toward the inside of his mouth.

Should this change in the position of the teeth (known as malocclusion) take place, the child may eventually require the assistance of an orthodontist (dentist who specializes in straightening teeth) later in life.

Effect of Minor Colds

QUESTION: Are some children more likely to breathe through enlarged adenoid or tonsil be, too, may develop the mouth breathing habit.

If you KNOW your child is a mouth breather, don't overlook it. A doctor or dentist can easily diagnose and help correct his condition before it harms his physical and dental health.

If your child has an enlarged adenoid or tonsil tissue (which normally grows to 10 years of age and then diminishes in size) he may also have blocked airways. So, until he outgrows the mouth breathing habit, the child may eventually require the assistance of an orthodontist (dentist who specializes in straightening teeth) later in life.

Illinois Inherited Slavery

John W. Allen
Southern Illinois University

3000 Myrtle, TR 6-2626
24-HOUR SERVICE

In an earlier column something was written about the story of slavery in southern Illinois. First it was the enslavement of some Indians by others. Then the French became slaveholders.

Mention was made of French promoters who bought a few hundred slaves purchased in the West Indies for use in a grandly conceived mining project in the southern Illinois-Missouri area. With the failure of the promoters' earlier dreams many of the imported slaves were sold to the French "habitants" in the Kaskaskia-Cahokia settlements. Slavery had become an established institution in Illinois before the territory came under British rule after the end of the French and Indian War in 1763. When the British came to occupy and actually possess the region in 1763 they did nothing to interfere with the practice, apparently accepting it with willingness. In the 13-year interval before 1778, during which the British were in full control of the area, they allowed slavery to continue with no basic changes. Thus slavery was a recognized and going institution in the Illinois country when Britain had it wrested from them by George Rogers Clark and his men in 1778.

Charter Conditions

As a move to promote the formation of a stronger central government the colonies along the eastern seaboard agreed to surrender their varied and sometimes conflicting claims to the public domain of the new nation. Virginia, claiming Illinois both by a charter from Britain and by military conquest, made it a condition of her request that the French inhabitants be allowed to retain their ancient rights and privileges. The unquestioned right to hold slaves definitely was among these.

When the Ordinance of 1787 was enacted by the United States as a basis of government for the Northwest Territory the "ancient rights and privileges" principle was reaffirmed to its earlier settlers. It also stated that there should be no slavery or involuntary servitude in the region except as a punishment for crime "whereof the party shall have been duly convicted." Seemingly there was an element of conflict.

General Arthur St. Clair, who was appointed first governor of the Northwest Territory, thought to settle the problem by ruling that slaves already in the territory would remain so. He also ruled that no additional ones could be brought in. Governor Harrison of Indiana Territory later reaffirmed that ruling.

Nevertheless, slavery continued to be brought in. This was done through a process of indenture. Little head was paid to the length of time one indentured might be required to remain in servitude.

Violation of Rulings
As an illustration, a woman could be legally indentured only until she was 32 years of age. This was violated repeatedly. In one case a 16-year-old girl was indentured for a term of 99 years. Had she lived until 1917 she would have been free and only 117 years old. Numerous other indentures extended well

RUSTIC LODGE at the 5180-acre Pere Marquette State Park near Grafton that is noted for fine foods and accommodations. The park, largest of its kind in the state, was established in 1932.

Pere Marquette in Jersey County is Largest State Park in Illinois

Perhaps more people are familiar with Pere Marquette State Park, Jersey County's gift to the tourist and vacationer, than any other state park within Illinois boundaries. There is a reason: it is the largest state park, and its facilities are so diversified that it appeals to all classes of people. Its huge lodge and vacation cottage at Grafton, on highway 100, are part of its sprawling 5180 acres of playland. The park commemorates in its name the French priest and explorer who with Joliet and five other companions visited the region in 1673. A large stone cross beyond any reasonable life expectancy. Lacking only the word, this was distinctly slavery. Also, slaves from outside the state were brought in. In this state the residents of the state, the sales bills being certified by Illinois officials. Illinoisians bought slaves from other Illinoisians and received bills of sale certified by Illinois officials.

In these cases it was not unusual to find such expressions as "a slave for life," "possession forever" and "guaranteed title." One would not be far wrong to say that laws designed to regulate slavery repeatedly were flouted.

Scattered through the records in several Illinois counties are the somewhat unpleasant story of 170 years of slavery in Illinois. FARMs - CALL BERGFELD GL 1-7540

Travel No Trouble

In Wash and Wear Age

In planning any vacation, you can count on travel checks and drip-dries to all but eliminate travel problems. But do you know that "travel" and "travel" both come from the same word—meaning hard work? For centuries, voyagers had to plan sturdy and inconspicuous wardrobes because of the triple threat of mud and dirt, bad roads or no bad roads at all—and robbers! In fact, "his said that Marco Polo wore threadbare clothes so robbers wouldn't mistake him for a wealthy merchant—and that famous scholar, Erasmus, wore a shirt of mail under his quilted jacket and also carried a dagger.

During the 15th century, a merchant traveling by ship often took along a deep-pile mantle to wear while lying on board in the cold and rain, two pairs of linen drawers for hot weather, eight shirts, two towels—and his own bedding!

In the 17th century, wardrobes were more elegant. Standard equipment for the ladies included black masks to protect their skin against unaccustomed fresh air—and also to conceal the toll that "powder and paint" took from their complexions.

In the 18th century, trips involved numerous trunkloads of voluminous petticoats and dresses. During Victoria's era, travel was characterized by an "outfit" of the ladies carried paraphernalia for needlework which was considered a proper leisure activity even on vacation! How much more fun traveling is today, when conditions are comfortable and relatively safe, and one light suitcase can hold a wardrobe to see you around the world—if it is packed with washable clothes which dry rapidly and need no ironing. Preparations should include making—and taking—individual "doses" of soap or detergent in paraffin sandwich bags, each sealed with a warm iron.

Also carry some plastic clothespins with hook tops, a few folding hangers, and a braided latex line with looped ends to stretch across a hotel bathroom. You can take advantage of self-service laundering facilities at motels, hotels, and even on some ships. Or you can quickly do a load of clothes at an automatic laundry along the way.

Just make the right plans, and your travels will be enjoyable instead of "travel."

Boy Scout Fall Roundup Has 'Head of Steam'

Melvin Gillie, Cahokia Mound Council organization and extension chairman, has announced that "we're under a full head of steam this month as we check our units and get them ready for the hundreds of boys who want to be scouts."

Gillie is reminding leaders that most interested boys will not join unless asked to do so. "Therefore, it is incumbent upon scouting's active membership to take the initial step to invite boys into the scouting movement," he commented.

Leaders and their scouts are being asked to give support in readying the roundup (Aug. 1 to Dec. 31) goal of 4694 boys for 1966.

SCHOOL OPENS SOON...

Please Drive Carefully

School bells are ringing again. And that's a sure sign of Autumn. But it's also a sign that groups of children will be at school crossings and busy intersections.

Sometimes a youngster won't be as careful about crossing the street as he should be. That's why we adults have to be extra careful. Make it a habit to watch out for children as you drive. Always obey the "school speed zone" limits. And when you see a ball bounce into the street, remember that a child is usually right behind it.

Traffic laws and driving rules are for everyone's protection. Now that school is beginning, let's make a special effort to follow them.

Survivor of 1942 Normandy Raid Returns to Site of Battle

At daybreak, 24 years ago tomorrow, a local man was among the 4963 Canadian assault troops and a handful of British Commandos who disembarked on the Normandy coast of France, in the initial offensive action on the European continent, since the Dunkirk evacuation in May 1940. Two weeks ago, Arthur J. "Bud" Evenden, 174 Moro avenue, returned to Pourville, a small resort town three kilometers from Dieppe, where he landed with the South Saskatchewan Regiment of Canada on Aug. 19, 1942.

Visible landmarks still dot the quiet village, where 2733 Canadians were killed, taken prisoner, or war or wounded.

Only 2219 specially-trained assault troops returned to England, 586 of them seriously wounded, including Evenden, who received a head wound from a sniper's bullet and a smashed right hand from an explosive cartridge.

The local man spent more than six hours in the water after evacuation was ordered, eventually to be picked up by a British destroyer.

Operation Jubilee
Since "Operation Jubilee," military authorities have revealed that the German coastal defense command had received detailed information on the landing and were well prepared and ready for the assault forces.

Besides providing a test of the enemy's coastal defenses, the raid also afforded the opportunity for a top-level British scientist to obtain information on German radar equipment, a new device being utilized in the area, it has since been established.

On his recent return visit, Evenden spoke with a hotel owner, a resident of Pourville at the time of the landing, who told him that 15 days after the Canadian attack, occupying German troops completely demolished all hotels and homes which fronted the beach between the high cliffs.

MIXED EMOTIONS were experienced by Arthur J. "Bud" Evenden of Granite City when he surveyed the remains of a coastal gun emplacement, high on the Normandy cliffs above Pourville, France. Close of Summer Can Be a Hazardous Time

Summer can be a time of danger for you and your youngster. As the season draws to a close, many families are looking forward to a camping trip before school starts, a visit to a relative's farm, or just a weekend away from the city.

Even the most city-pent adult knows that bees and their relatives, hornets, are to be avoided. But some very young children might not know.

"Some persons are so sensitive to bee stings they may die from only one sting unless a doctor treats them quickly," Quad-Cityans are being warned.

It isn't usual, but it does happen. In mild reactions, all that may develop after the initial pain is a large local swelling which may last several days and itch very intensely.

But in moderately sensitive persons, a sting by a bee, wasp, yellow jacket or hornet may cause widespread swellings or hives, wheezing, faintness, dizziness, vomiting, a bad cold, cramps or diarrhea.

There also may be some shortness of breath, nasal discharge or stiffness in the nose, and some tightness in the throat. Occasionally, there may be aching and swelling of the joints, and a bruised appearance may develop at some part of the body distant from the sting.

The highly allergic person can sustain one sting which can produce shock and prove fatal within minutes. Fortunately, these extreme reactions are rare.

Degree Can Increase
The mechanism of allergic reactions to insect stings is not completely understood but, frequently, the degree of sensitivity in the allergic individual increases with each succeeding sting.

In other words, if you once were stung by a bee and suffered little more than localized pain and swelling, your next bee sting may have more serious consequences.

Suntan lotion attracts bees and other insects, and so do perfumes, hair spray, hair tonic and many other cosmetics. Don't dress children in floppy clothing in which insects might become caught—and don't dress that way yourself.

Bright-colored clothing, flowery prints and black clothing should be avoided. On the other hand, light colors, such as white, green, tan and khaki, are believed neither to attract nor to antagonize bees.

Children should be taught not to pick up toys without checking first to make sure that no insects are on them. Public trash baskets should be avoided.

If stung by a honeybee, scrape the stinger off immediately. This can be done with one quick scrape of the fingernail. Don't try to pick up the venom sac between your thumb and forefinger; this merely squeezes more venom into the wound.

If you or your child should be stung by a bee or other stinging insect, professional care is a wise precaution no matter how mild the reaction.

The best way to avoid stings is to keep away from stinging insects—and see that your children keep away, too.

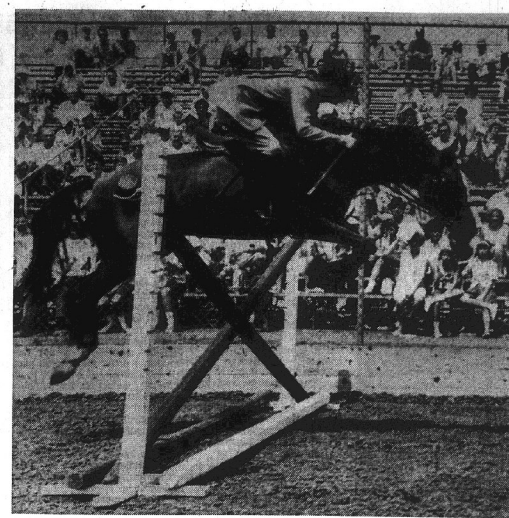

PFC. PHILLIP MINNER

Pfc. Phillip Minner Commended by Army

Pfc. Phillip M. Minner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Minner, 2510 Delmar avenue, was commended this month by Capt. William S. Rinehart, commanding officer of the U. S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga., for outstanding performance of duty while undergoing airborne training.

As a member of the 49th Company, 4th Student Battalion (Airborne), Pfc. Minner exhibited exceptional leadership qualities while performing duties as a student barracks sergeant. This assignment is not normally made to personnel of his rank.

Pfc. Minner, a June 1966 graduate of Granite City high school, was employed by the Terminal Railroad Association before enlisting for three years on Feb. 11. He will be home this week-end after completing his paratrooper training with jumps at Fort Campbell, Ky.

JUMPING EVENT will be one of the features next week at the sixth annual Granite City Rotary Club Horse Show, which will be held at the Tri-City Speedway on Aug. 28. Horses will begin their first jump at 3 p.m. and proceed up from there.

Rotary Horse Show Features Open Jumpers

Jumping horses, from 10 to 20 entries, will be one of the main features Sunday, Aug. 28, in the sixth annual All-Western Horse Show sponsored by the Rotary Club of Granite City.

The horses, like those used on fox hunts in old England, will jump over eight barriers at the Tri-City Speedway arena, with heights beginning at three feet, six inches. Top entrants are determined on an elimination basis, with points scored against the mounts for knocking down or "flicking" a jump.

Most jumpers are about half thoroughbred, mixed with other breeds such as Arabians, Morgans or Quarter horses.

"Sand Storm," a jump horse owned by St. Louis radio personality Dick Clayton, will be among popular mounts featured in that event. "Sand Storm" was the 1965 U.S. Junior Champion.

Bigger horses of the mixed thoroughbreds are more desirable for this contest than the small ponies or young colts because they (the former) have more poise and confidence.

Date Back to Vikings
Edward Meng, publicity chairman for the horse show, said jumping horses actually began competitive appearances during the days of the Vikings when they would hurdle over logs and creeks.

Although riders then were more scantily attired and had no riding habits as such, riders in the coming horse show must be outfitted with high boots, hard hats and optional spurs.

Highlighting the event will be the Flynn Sisters, girls 15 and 18 years old who are professional jumpers and perform for shows and rodeos such as this.

Also present will be Otis Brown Jr., a former Olympic candidate for this type of competition.

Purpose of the Rotary horse show is to raise $6000 so that the club can purchase an elec-

Engineering Executive Courses Being Offered

An engineering executive program to prepare engineers, mathematicians and scientists for managerial positions will be offered in the fall by the Institute for Continuing Education of the Washington University School of Engineering and Applied Science.

The program is made up of a series of courses designed to help the engineer or scientist turn manager make the transition from purely technical work to new responsibilities.

In making the announcement, Professor Gerald Esterson, director of the institute, said, "As modern industry becomes more complex, industry and business are looking increasingly to persons with engineering and scientific backgrounds to fill the growing need for effective executives in our economy."

"The high degree of specialization and increasing involvement of engineering and scientific activities in all phases of management require such persons in executive positions."

"In order to perform in their new capacities, such men must acquire the background and skills needed to deal with such functions as decision-making, personnel and human relations, financial and profit management, and production schedules. In this program we are concentrating on the supervisory and managerial aspects of the problem."

To be offered in the fall semester are courses covering: (1) legal problems in engineering administration, (2) simulation and games for executives, (3) operations research models in business and industry and (4) human behavior in industrial situations.

A fifth course, on entrepreneurship, will begin in the fall and continue through the spring semester. It will define the role of the entrepreneur in converting an idea or an invention into a profitable and successful new commercial enterprise, and will explain the way in which he organizes his approach and solves his problems.

Cost, Difficulty Of Vietnam War Cited by Speaker

Every day at least one American soldier is lost or killed in combat. Last year, 530 U. S. aircraft were downed. A quarter of the American tax dollar is being spent on the rising problems in Southeast Asia.

These points were made Tuesday in a talk to Granite City Rotarians by John Isaacson, a St. Louis attorney and former Air Force intelligence officer.

Discussing the importance that the Vietnam war is being given in Washington, Isaacson told the weekly luncheon gathering of 40 members and five guests that Department of Defense reports project the assignment of 750,000 troops to Southeast Asia within the next 18 months.

Served in Far East
Program Chairman James E. Louis introduced the speaker, who related his experiences in Southeast Asia, pinpointing South Vietnam in particular.

Isaacson, a former teacher of this subject at Washington University, began by saying that the last Rotary meeting he attended was at the U.S. embassy in Bangkok, Thailand, where Americans and others from throughout Southeast Asia convened. This was in 1962.

That club supported a leper colony, he said, comparing it to the Granite City Rotary project of raising money to purchase a brain wave machine for St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The attorney showed color photographic slides along with his talk, mentioning especially that Saigon — although troubled with problems of a major war around its perimeter — is the major commercial port for Southeast Asia.

"Despite the fact that people are living primitively outside of the city," he said, "Saigon is as modern as any French-European metropolitan area."

Terror Tactics
Immediately outside the huge Oriental town, six miles in fact, the population is terrorized by Viet Cong and North Vietnamese who have infiltrated from the north, he said. Without proper protection, these outlying lands, even major buildings within the city, are destroyed by Communist aggressors.

"All communications, food supplies and transportation are systematically demolished," Isaacson related.

Despite the continual destruction by the enemy, the Saigon vicinity is rebuilt, almost entirely by U.S. funds. "A great percentage of all major construction is done by the U.S. government or U.S. companies under specified contracts," he noted.

Figures cited by the speaker showed the disorganization of South Vietnam.

Four different types of people make up the population — Indian, French-European, Chinese and Highlanders. Of the 15,000,000 residents, only 20% are termed literate.

BICYCLE WINNERS Cynthia Schiber, 12, of 18 Bermuda lane and Chris Watters, six, of 2801 Forest avenue. The bicycles were given to the youngsters by the Nameokl Village shopping center as part of current "back to school" activities.

Congressional Library Accepts O'Guin Book

A communication received Tuesday from Washington, D. C., informed Rev. C. M. O'Guin this book, "Special Occasion Helps," has been entered in the Congressional Library. He was given the file number of its location.

The author has expressed pleasure at the reception given the book by the public. It passed into a second edition at the end of the week on the market; in Bangkok, Thailand, where Americans and others from throughout Southeast Asia convened. This was in 1962.

Jaycees Lauded For Success of State Jamboree

The successful manner in which Granite City Jaycees handled the statewide Illinois Junior Sports Jamboree, held here earlier this month, was noted in letters from several sources, read Tuesday evening at the jamboree committee's windup meeting at Tri-Mor Bowl.

Committee members discussed various areas where improvement may be incorporated in future programs, and prepared recommendations to be forwarded to the Illinois Youth Commission and Illinois Jaycees. Boyd Presley and Herbert Siebert, jamboree co-chairmen, presided at the session, attended by 20 persons.

Arrangements for the 1967 jamboree, scheduled to be held at Pekin, Ill., already are underway, the committee was told.

Representatives of the Pekin Jaycees observed each phase of the recent meet here, which they since have reported will greatly assist them in planning next year's event.

Comments to the local Jaycee organization have been received from the Illinois Youth Commission, individual chapters from other communities and the Granite City Rotary club, committee members were advised.

Another letter, praising the who sought information and assistance in setting up a similar program and the way it was implemented, was received from program for Missouri.
